Trivia challenge at The Phoenix will test global wit of region's professionals

CINCINNATI, OHIO - The Greater Cincinnati World Affairs Council (GCWAC), Cincinnati's focal point for global awareness, education, and exchange, is holding its fourth annual gala and global trivia competition, ONE World, at The Phoenix in downtown Cincinnati on Saturday, February 18th, 2017.

The event will begin with cocktails and dinner then proceed to the trivia challenge. The team with the highest Global Intelligence (GQ) will be crowned the winners. Teams will compete against each other in four globally themed rounds of questions – it's "Jeopardy!" meets "Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego?"

The Carol Ann & Ralph V. Haile, Jr./U.S. Bank Foundation, our Title Sponsor, will hold a table of students and teachers from Indian Hill High School. Leslie Maloney, Senior Vice President and Program Manager, trusts "globally competent students are life-long learners" and the gala is a perfect example of that.

Proceeds from the event will support the global education programs of the GCWAC which prepares students of all ages to thrive in the 21st century global environment. GCWAC is committed to engaging more youths and community members in global events and activities.

Corporate tables give businesses the opportunity to build their international brand, motivate their employees to engage in global understanding, and measure their company's GQ against others. Individual teams not associated with a corporation give friends and family the chance to demonstrate their global wit. All receive the chance at bragging rights.

The students from Indian Hill high school are returning again and hoping to defend their title as the One World Gala champions and to prove once again their global wits against the community and business members!

How much do you know about the world? Only the game will tell.
